WHAT IS A CSA PROGRAM? Community supported agriculture is a way for the food loving public to create a relationship with the farm and the farmer who grows their produce. By making a financial commitment to the farm, people become shareholders (members, subscribers) of the farm. In return shareholders receive a weekly amount of produce. By becoming a member, you are building a relationship between the farmer, the food they grow and the food you eat, all while becoming stewards of the land where it is sown.

WHY CHOOSE SIRNA’S FARM? Not only do we grow all of our own produce at our farm, but we produce a large variety of products. You have access to an additional ‘grocery list’ which can be added on to your weekly share. These items include: local non-homogenized whole milk, local cheeses, our own farm fresh eggs, grass fed beef, Sirna tapped maple syrup and many of the local, wholesome products available at our farm market!
Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: Is Your Farm Organic? We are not certified organic, but we do not spray any pesticides. We work with nature and use things like beneficial insects and other natural solutions. Our family farm is sustainable and the healthiest option in town.

Q: Where Is My Pick Up Location? You will pick up at the farm where you can meet your local farmer and other shareholders. CSA day is Thursday, but accommodations can be made.

Q: When Does The Program Start? The tentative start date of the 12 week program is mid-June. This is subject to changes as it will vary depending on spring growing/planting conditions. Until then, hang tight! Check Facebook and your email for updates!

Q: Do I Pick What Goes In My Share? No, you do not get to pick what is in your share, we bag your share based on what is ripe and in season at the farm. Eating with the seasons allows for the most nutrient dense foods, and a real awareness of how food is grown. If you’re curious what to expect visit our seasonal availability chart at sirnasfarm.com and browse our photos online.

Q: How Large Is The Share? There is a value associated with each share, but size share may vary by what is in season. If you are interested in what we previously offered as a family size share, you can purchase two shares for a discount of $50.

Q: What If I Don’t Know How To Prepare Something In My Bag? A major benefit of the program is cultivating community around the program. We invite you to ask your farmer at pick up, communicate online on Facebook with other shareholders and read your weekly newsletter with share information, cooking suggestions and recipes. We like to say: “the struggle and satisfaction of eating locally is eating seasonally.”

...please write legibly and submit application & payment by May 31st.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT:

By becoming a member of the Sirna’s Farm Inc. CSA, I agree to commit to the full twelve week season. I agree to pick up my product as arranged at Sirna’s Farm or as negotiated per Sirna’s Farm. As a member of the CSA I understand that I will receive a weekly share, which may vary in size and weight from week to week depending on the time of the season and specific season changes. I understand that the variety of vegetables that I receive is chosen by the farmer based on what is being harvested at that point of season and peak in product. I understand that each week the share may vary because of the growing season and conditions, and that the risks and benefits of the harvest are shared. I understand that by making this commitment to the farm I am taking the same risks that the local farmer does of crop failure or success due to weather, etc. I understand missed deliveries that are not picked up within 24 hours will not be refunded unless an emergency and contact is made with Sirna’s Farm within 24 hours. Any planned absences from picking up your share should be coordinated on shareholder’s behalf to have an alternative pick-up person and/or method with 7 days notice. Most importantly, I understand that by joining the CSA program, I am making an investment in my future health, local economy & family owned business.
